

Dr Sangeeta Bhatia
Associate Professor
Department of Psychology

Dr Sangeeta Bhatia is an associate professor in the Department of Psychology. She received her Ph.D. in Psychology from Delhi University in 2000, and was a merit position holder in M.Phil in Psychology from Panjab University, Chandigarh. Dr. Bhatia joined the Psychology department at Gargi College in 1990, where she currently teaches a number of undergraduate courses. Her area of specialisation is in the fields of developmental and health psychology. During the course of 25 years of teaching, she has also undertaken numerous research projects, having successfully completed Major and Minor Projects funded by UGC. Her work has been published in both international and national journals. Of special note is her contribution of two chapters on Community Psychology in India in international handbooks edited by authors from the UK and USA. These books are widely used as references by universities across the world.

Dr. Bhatia has been a member of national and international professional associations in the field of psychology, such as the National Academy of Psychology, India (NAOP) and American Psychological Association (APA). She has also presented papers at conferences in India and abroad. Having mentored undergraduate students for research beyond the curriculum, at present she is also supervising doctoral research work at the University of Delhi.